Republic Day

- by Varshini Sai Teki Cl. II

Republic Day is a National Festival of India. The Constitution of our country came into effect on 26th January 1950 and therefore we celebrate 26 January every year as Republic Day. The Constitution is the supreme law of India and it is the largest written Constitution in the world. It gives us fundamental rights like freedom of speech, education, religion and more.

Every year we celebrate this day with a great sense of patriotism. The main Republic Day celebration of the country is held at Rajpath renamed as Kartavya Path in New Delhi in the presence of the President of India, who is the Chief Guest. The President hoists the National Flag and takes the salute during the grand parade. A 21-gun salute is given to honour the Nation and the Constitution. The parade begins with the march past by the Indian Army, Navy, and Air Force, displaying discipline, bravery, and military strength.

Beautiful tableaux from different states and Union Territories showcase India's rich cultural heritage, traditions, festivals, and developmental achievements. School children from various parts of the country perform colourful cultural dances and formations that spread the message of unity, peace, and harmony.

It took 2 years, 11 months and 18 days to complete our Constitution and Republic Day reminds us to respect our Constitution and follow its principles. It teaches us the importance of unity, equality, and discipline. As responsible citizens, we should work honestly and contribute to the progress and development of our Nation.

My Poem On Pongal

- by S. Riya Cl. VII

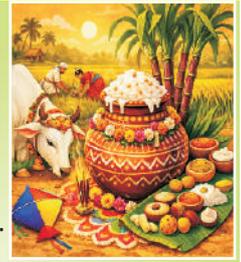

Pongal's dawn, a festive day,
Sun's blessings chase the shadows away.

Sweet Pongal boils, a harvest treat,
Guru's wisdom, families at the beat.

Cows adorned with bells and flair,
Turmeric blooms, prosperities there.
Prayers rise with incense smoke,
Pongal's joy, let hearts invoke.

Fields are lush, harvest's cheer,
Mom's sweet Pongal, love is here.
Bells jingle loud, prayers fill the air,
Pongal's joy, we all share.

Sun's warm rays, a happy start,
Traditions old, in the heart.
Wishing may this Pongal bring cheer,
And blessings throughout the year.

Republic Day

- by Lakshana Cl. II

On the morning of Republic Day, the whole country wakes up with happiness and pride as the National Flag is hoisted in schools, offices, and public places, reminding everyone, that on the 26th of January our Constitution came into force and gave India the power to govern itself with laws to protect equality, freedom and justice for all citizens.

On Republic Day children dress neatly, sing patriotic songs, watch parades, and listen carefully to speeches about freedom fighters and leaders. Teachers explain how Republic Day taught us to respect our Nation, follow rules, do our duties honestly and grow into responsible citizens who love and serve their country.

Pongal

- by B. Pranitha Cl. IX

Pongal is a significant harvest festival celebrated with joy and gratitude, marking the end of the harvest season. It emphasizes thanking nature, farmers and the Sun God for a good yield.

Traditional practices make Pongal special, people clean and decorate their homes with Kolams (intricate rice designs), wear new clothes, and prepare the sweet dish Pongal, letting it overflow as a symbol of prosperity. Cattle are honoured on Mattu Pongal with decorations, turmeric and oil massages for their hardwork in the fields.

Families gather together, share meals and participate in cultural activities. These traditions not only celebrate abundance but also teach us respect for nature, unity and cultural heritage.

Happy Pongal!
